Jr. high architect selected

M & W, Inc., architects and engineers, St. Louis, was selected by the Madison Board of Education Thursday night to design a new junior high school for the district.

The district has applied for a 70 per cent state grant to help finance the new school, which would eliminate double-shift schedules at the existing Madison Junior High School.

If Gov. Dan Walker's state accelerated building program is approved, the state may provide an additional 25 per cent of the funding for a total of 95 per cent. Superintendent John Palchek told the board.

He said no specific cost estimates have been made, but that the state will work with the architects in designing a building for the district.

The superintendent added that state officials have pledged to conduct an on-site study, probably this month, of a possible site for the new school. The site has not been disclosed. Architect Virgil Dulgeroff of the Loyet & McDonough firm was selected to design a rear addition to the Board of Education meeting room. The addition, Palchek said, will get the public out of the office area during board meetings and will provide more room.

Weather outlook for this region

Partly cloudy and warmer today with high 65 to 70. Clear to partly cloudy and warmer tonight. Low about 50. Sunny and warmer Tuesday with high in the 70s. Continued mild Wednesday through Friday with highs in the mid-60s to mid-70s. Lows in the upper 40s to upper 50s. Chances of showers Wednesday afternoon and again on Friday.

River Fest sales off to rapid start

More than $10,000 in coupon book sales have been recorded in the first two weeks of the pre-season promotional campaign launched by the Mississippi River Festival, reports showed at a Friday noon meeting of the MRF board of directors.

About 200 volunteers from the metropolitan area are involved in the coupon book campaign. It is hoped to realize $100,000 in sales before June 30.

The coupon books, which sell for $20, offer $25 worth of coupons redeemable for tickets to any Mississippi River Festival event.

Lyle Ward, managing director of the MRF, reminded board members that coupon book purchasers have both the advantage of a 20 per cent discount and the exclusive ability to purchase tickets during April, through redemption of coupons by mail order or in person at the ticket office at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Regular mail orders will be filled beginning Monday at the SUE ticket office, and more than 40 bi-state outlets will open for sales of tickets and coupon books June 2.

Sawed-off shotgun is used in Venice holdup

The Venice Liquor Store, 324 Broadway, was held up by two men one with a sawed-off shotgun at 11 p.m. Saturday. The robbers escaped with $125.

An employee said one man initially asked for beer to take out and paid $2 to her before pulling the shotgun from under his coat, telling her to put money from the cash register into a bag with the beer.

When asked if he wanted change from the register, he specified paper money only, the clerk said.

The shotgun-wielding bandit was described as about five feet, four inches tall, weighing between 130 and 155 pounds and wearing a tan or brown suit.

His companion, who failed to display a weapon openly, but reportedly had a long-handled gun stuck in his waistband, was about five feet, eight inches tall, weighed between 145 and 165 pounds and wore a red sweater and gray or tan trousers. Both men were in the late twenties, the clerk said.

The same store was held up about four months ago, but the robbers were apprehended upon reaching East St. Louis, a Venice officer said.

Can a dietary shortage of VITAMIN E be related to PREMATURE AGING?

Everybody grows old. There's nothing science, medicine or nutrition can do about that. But a shortage of Vitamin E in the diet can, according to certain nutritionists, bring about oxidation in the cells, thus hastening the aging process. You'll find the whole story in a FREE BOOKLET that reports what the 1971 White House Conference on Aging had to say about Vitamin E and how a dietary shortage could be related to premature aging. Look for the booklet in the clean, green and white Nutri-E All Natural Vitamin E display at...

$1,243 stolen at Friedman's

Two women who supposedly wanted to pay on an account at Friedman's Furniture Store, 421 Madison Ave., Madison, reportedly stole a total of $1,243 cash from the office area at 4:15 p.m. Saturday.

An employee told police the women, both between 25 and 30 years old, asked to use the money owned by another woman whose name could not be found among the store accounts.

The pair later gave another name, also apparently fictitious. When the employee returned to the office, after a brief moment's absence, she discovered the money was missing from under an adding machine and the two women were gone.

One was described as having long black hair and wearing a blue leather coat with white fur trim. The second woman wore a "regular hairstyle" and a green pant suit with buttons down the front.

Lake school ransacked
Classrooms and offices at Lake School were ransacked by a burglar who entered the building through a restroom window. A passing motorist notified police at 1:57 a.m. Saturday that the school's interior lighting appeared unusual.

Officers found the intruder had taken soft drinks from a box in the gym and also eaten food. Glass was broken in a classroom door to gain entry and the room ransacked, with a violin removed from the room.

The school's roof was unsecured and the room entered. Money from the soda machine was stolen, along with the only items believed stolen. Principal Ed Gowna said. An inventory is being taken.

Jurisdictional dispute at ADM plant razing

A jurisdictional dispute between the Longshoremen's Union and the Laborers' and Hod Carriers locals may delay demolition of the Archer Daniels Midland plant, as the Laborers' and Hod Carriers established a picket line this morning.

The Longshoremen, with headquarters in St. Louis and New York City, are working for the Invirex Demolition Co. of New York.

It was reported this morning that although some longshoremen did cross the picket line, the majority were waiting for their business agent to arrive on the scene to give them instructions.

"I decline to accept the end of man. It is easy to say that man is immortal simply because he will endure. I believe that man will not merely endure... he will prevail."

"The Eagle Within" is our way of recognizing the real reason America is the greatest nation on earth; the reason we do prevail — our people," according to August A. Busch Jr., Anheuser-Busch chairman and chief executive.

"We feel it will be an unconventional yet appropriate way to express how individualism, personal resourcefulness and free enterprise, democratic society have made possible — in America's first 200 years — achievements not realized in thousands of years by previous civilizations.

"We hope it will be enjoyed and remembered by millions of visitors at the three Busch Gardens."

The film is a series of fast action sequences, each an illustration of personal achievement, shown through a synchronized combination of media — 35 mm wide screen motion picture film, still photography involving ten 35mm slide projectors, and multi-directional "surround" sound.

Filming was from a "subjective" as well as "objective" viewpoint — to provide viewers with a first-person sense of participation in the action.

Re-elected board members Willie Walker and David Miskelly were seated. Walker begins his second full term and Miskelly begins his first elected term, having been appointed previously to fill a vacancy.

The board requested an extension of time to bring Madison High School and Dunbar School into compliance with the state's Life Safety Code. The high school needs only a means of egress from the band room to be in compliance. Several revisions are required at Dunbar School.

The district's summer schedule was approved. Summer School will begin June 6 and end July 18. The only holiday during that period will be July 4 when schools will be closed.

The examination schedules for the high school and Madison Junior High School were approved. The same schedules will be used this year as in the past three years.

A request from the National Guard was approved as the board committed itself to allowing teachers in the National Guard program to serve in emergencies without losing their teaching positions.

The board voted to seek bids for student insurance and for paper supplies.

A resignation from Luvenia

Long from her extra-curricular position as a cheerleader supervisor was accepted. She will remain a teacher at the high school.

The Madison Civil Defense was granted permission to use the school gymnasium as secondary facilities for aid in the event of an emergency. The Madison Recreation Center is the primary aid facility.

Board Member Elvers Johnson was selected as the Madison district's voting member on the Southwestern Division Governing Committee of the Illinois Association of School Boards.

The board voted to pay a $1,035 bill for a universal gymnasium machine which had been purchased several years ago. The final payment had been held more than one year due to a disagreement over the district's obligation to pay it.

A student who had been in an alternative class in Coordinated Youth Services was reinstated as a student in the Madison district.

The board deferred action on the purchase of a new van or bus for the district.

PAUL REVERE'S RIDE

April 18, 1775, the colonists discovered that British General Gage was about to move his crack troops from Boston for a secret raid on Concord. If the British went out by water, two lanterns were to be displayed in the North Church steeple. If by land, one lantern. When it became apparent the troops were leaving by sea, Paul Revere was rowed in a small boat past the British ships to Charlestown where he mounted his horse and galloped through the countryside to warn that the British were coming.

Four new school positions created

The Granite City Board of Education voted Tuesday night to create four new positions in the schools, but the positions will require the hiring of only one new teacher.

The board created two positions as coordinators of office occupations, one for each

Granite City High School South and GCHS North.

The positions were filled with teachers already employed at the schools. Don Davinroy was selected for the post at North and Mrs. Jeanette Holder is to fill the position at South.

Each will continue to teach regular classes in addition to coordinating students in the work-study program in which some students spend a portion of their day in school and the remainder of the school day in actual work situation.

The board voted to create and advertise for a new teacher for a program to aid visually-impaired students in the Special Education District, which includes Granite City, Madison and Venice.

The new teacher will coordinate educational programs for 13 visually-impaired students—eight in Granite City, three in Venice and two in Madison.

The job will require the teacher to visit all of the schools in which the students are enrolled, working with them and their teachers to coordinate programs to improve the students' educations.

The state will reimburse a portion of the new teacher's salary and the rest will be paid by the three participating districts.

Larry Diak, a teacher at Coolidge Junior High School, was selected to fill a new position teaching socially-maladjusted students at Coolidge. Similar positions have been created in the past at both high schools and at Grigsby Junior High School.

Diak is to attend summer school to complete the necessary work to be certified to work in special education. The state will reimburse $6,250 of his salary.

The creation of the position does not require the hiring of any additional teachers.

Urge citizen role in highway planning

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

"Communication, not confrontation" is the theme of the Illinois Department of Transportation's new Action Plan which was described at two public meetings in the City Hall of Granite City Thursday by Jordan Vesper, DOT District 8 Action Plan coordinator.

Vesper explained that the DOT formerly decided where the best location was for a highway and then held public hearings on the proposed location. "By then, it was too late," he commented.

Vesper said the new Action Plans calls for public participation in highway programs and the DOT is enlisting the help of interested persons to provide input in the planning of new projects.

He explained the public will assist in identifying historical areas, parks and other areas through which highway construction should be avoided.

"We then will develop all possible alignments and have you help us develop which alignment you prefer."

The "no build" or "do nothing" alternative will always be one of the choices which must be studied just as carefully as the other alternatives," he continued.

Under the Action Plan, a proposal for a new highway or major transportation development will undergo four steps before final planning begins.

The first phase is identification, which requires an objective study of the positive and negative impacts of a proposed project on social, economic and environmental concerns of the community.

The second phase is an interdisciplinary approach enlisting the help of the public, sociologists, economists, environmentalists and engineers throughout the planning stages to be sure that no adverse effects have been overlooked.

Third phase is one of public involvement through meetings and hearings, newsletters and other means to alert citizens of the proposed roadway or project and give an opportunity for response, even before the plans are drafted.

Phase four will be the preparation of alternatives to be offered to the public for study and comment.

"Any given alignment will be chosen from among several alternatives, including the 'no build' alternative," Vesper said.

He and George Walsh, public relations officer for DOT District 8, distributed a questionnaire to the dozen persons at the meeting. The document requested them to enlist to help in the Action Plan.

They were invited to select participation in advisory groups, to offer technical assistance in their specialized areas or to sign up for district and state Action Plan mailing lists.

Vesper noted that the Action Plan is a federal requirement and is to be applied at this time only to highway projects in which federal funds are involved.

"We hope to broaden this to all state projects in the near future," he said.

He invited anyone wishing to become involved in the Action Plan or to receive the program's newsletters to contact him at the Illinois Department of Transportation, Co Action Plan Coordinator, 9300 St. Clair Ave., East St. Louis, Ill., 62203.

The upcoming public meeting to initiate the obtaining of easements for the proposed Four Township Sanitary Sewer Program was discussed. The meeting is to begin at 2 p.m. Sunday, April 27, at Granite City High School North.

Boquets of blue daisy pompons and white gladioli decorated the altar for the double-ring ceremony performed at 6 o'clock in the evening by the Rev. L. C. Priesner.

Mrs. Norma Lawson presided at the organ and played, "Wedding Song," "Time in a Bottle," "Close to You," "Colour My World" and "If."

For her wedding, the bride chose a long gown of ivory satin, fashioned with a fitted bodice and full skirt which extended into a chapel train.

Peau de Ange lace motifs were applied on the bodice and lantern sleeves. She wore a Juliet cap to hold in place a finger tip veil edged in matching lace. Her bouquet was an arrangement of white carnations, daisy pompons, Elegance carnations and baby's breath interspersed with light blue blossoms.

Victorian style gowns in a blue double-knit accented with ivory lace collars and cuffs were worn by the attendants. They carried colonial bouquets of blue and white carnations, daisy pompons, and baby's breath, and each wore a floral headpiece in matching flowers.

Mrs. Denise Johns, a sister-in-law of the bride, served as matron of honor with Miss Susan Cavins and Mrs. Paula Cantagi, a cousin of the bride, as bridesmaids.

The groom chose David Johns, the bride's brother, as his best man.

Zoning officer, safety plan, museum on agenda

Appointments of Paul T. Hawkins as building, environmental and zoning administrator is to be considered by the Madison County Board at its 9:30 a.m. Wednesday meeting.

Also listed are "minor corrections" to the new county zoning law, bids on gasoline for sheriff's autos, summer uniforms for deputies, an agreement with the Madison County Historical Society on museum funding, and proposed creation of a "superior of safety unit" to assist the sheriff's department.

The museum agreement calls for the county government to lease the facilities from the Historical Society for $1; the museum is to be operated jointly by the society and the County Board's Education and Recreation Committee.

Payment of museum maintenance and operating costs has been halted for two months due to a legal ruling citing lack of a written contract for such use of tax revenue.

The public safety supervisor program is regarded by some as reminiscent of past special deputy sheriff staffs, but details have been withheld pending Wednesday's discussion by the County Board.

Mitchell youth shot in neck

Joseph Wondra, 21, of 640 Ashland Ave., Mitchell, is in satisfactory condition today at St. Elizabeth Hospital after a bullet wound to his neck.

He told Madison County sheriff's deputies he was shot accidentally at 7:15 p.m. Friday by a 17-year-old Mitchell youth in the 600 block of Chouteau Avenue, Mitchell. Wondra declined to prefer charges.

Two Mitchell residents said they heard two shots and looked out the doors of their homes to see the 17-year-old placing Wondra in Wondra's auto. Blood could be seen on the victim, they said.

The youth took him to the hospital and told authorities Wondra had been shot through the car window. Deputies now say evidence does not seem to support that contention.

Investigators were unable to obtain information on the circumstances leading to the shooting, but believe it occurred outside the car. Deputies were unable to find the gun involved.

The 17-year-old was questioned and was released.

Late May opening for Walgreen Drug Store

Walgreen workmen have begun installation of merchandise display units in Granite City's first Walgreen Drug Store at 1801 Nameoki Road in the Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center. The 12,694-square-foot facility is scheduled to open in late May.

"The new merchandise display units have been specially designed to make shopping easier and more convenient," a Walgreen spokesman said.

"That was the year Pharmacist Charles R. Walgreen Sr. cranked down the awning of his first store on Chicago's south side.

"For Walgreen, the new store was his big chance, and he intended to make the most of it. Born on a farm near Galesburg, Ill., in 1873, he had just come back from the Spanish-American War. The new store gave him an opportunity to do things his way."

"It wasn't too long before customers began noticing that his way was a lot better than they were used to in other drug stores. They liked his courtesy, his imaginative merchandising and his fresh outlook."

"One of his favorite techniques involved his claim of having the fastest delivery service. When a housewife would phone in an order, he would repeat it loudly so the delivery boy could hear it. After the boy left with the order, Walgreen would come to exchange pleasantries with the woman."

"More often than not, she would receive the order before she even hung up the phone," it was related.

"Another landmark for American drug stores came about accidentally. Walgreen brought a lunch to work every day. When customers learned how tasty these meals were, they asked if Mrs. Walgreen would send some extra food. She did, and the first drug store 'grill room' was born."

"That kind of customer satisfaction is contagious, and soon Walgreen bought another store. The same techniques brought the same success. Again, and again."

"By 1916, Walgreen owned seven separate drug stores in Chicago. He combined them all to form the Walgreen Company. "After World War I, he took advantage of the nation's increasing prosperity and began to advertise. He purchased a creamery in Ohio so that he could control the raw materials that went into his ice cream. "From the farmer to the freezer," he described his operation."

"The Walgreen Co. consisted of 60 stores in 1925, all but eight in Chicago. Four years later, when the Depression hit the nation, there were 379 Walgreen Drug Stores coast-to-coast."

"Charles R. Walgreen turned to new merchandising methods to bring Walgreen's through the depression years. In 1933, the company made financial news by beginning regular quarterly dividend payments to stockholders. Walgreen's has not missed a regular monthly dividend since."

"When Charles R. Walgreen Sr. died in 1939, the company's leadership was assumed by his son, Charles Jr."

"World War II caused a shortage of materials, ruling out further expansion for the time being. Twenty-five hundred Walgreen employees left for the armed forces. Despite such handicaps, 1943 saw the largest number of prescriptions ever."

"After the war, new ideas which had developed over the years in drug stores were put to work. Out went the rolling steepladder and the old-style fountains that had prevailed for 45 years. In came modern fountain fixtures and blond oak and glass showcases.

"During the 1950s, the company converted practically all of its drug stores to the new styles. By 1960, Walgreen's was ready to branch out into fields other than retail drug stores, and did so with its Globe Department Stores, and later with International Travel Service."

"In 1961, a Walgreen announcement of dramatically lower prescription prices, published in a series of nationwide advertisements, started a significant national trend that still benefits consumers today."

"In 1971, Walgreen's introduced its system of quoting any prescription price to consumers by phone, thus making it easy for them to compare prescription prices."

"Prescription service at Walgreen's continues to reach unprecedented heights. The firm recently filled its 300 millionth new prescription, and is currently filling prescriptions at the rate of 28 million annually — far more than any other drug store chain."

"Today, Charles R. Walgreen III, R.Ph., is president of the huge retail chain, which currently has 629 Walgreen Drug Stores, 26 Globe Department Stores, 24 free-standing restaurants and 316 store-connected restaurants — in addition to nearly 1,800 franchised Walgreen Agency Drug Stores."

"But most important of all, there is the constant striving to give Walgreen customers more for their dollar — more services, more convenience, more quality and value — and the widest possible selection of merchandise from which to choose."

School counseling a challenge

Family problems, grade problems and peer group problems occupy most of the time of a junior high school counselor, according to Jon Mullen.

Mullen, a counselor at Grigsby Junior High, spoke to the Breakfast Kiwanis Club Thursday morning at Charlie's Restaurant.

Mullen said that when the ninth grade was part of the junior high school, sex and drugs were two of the major problems.

He explained that in the junior high school they now have a "values qualifications course" that helps a student learn about drugs and other problems they must face.

The junior high counselor also works with sixth graders, their parents and teachers, helping them make a smooth transition into the junior high.

Robert Harris was the program chairman. Next week the club will conduct a business meeting.

SOME public rights on private property

In view of the high regard for private property in our legal system, one might expect to find a common belief that any individual who owns real estate has complete control over it, and may do with it as he wishes. But this is not necessarily true.

In a growing number of instances, the law has determined that the rights of the public supersede those of the private property owner.

One such instance is illustrated by the following hypothetical situation: Suppose Smith and Jones are adjoining landowners and the most convenient access to and from Jones' property is across the property of Smith.

Jones continually drives across the edge of Smith's land with Smith's knowledge but without his verbal consent.

Other members of the public also use this approach in order to reach the property of Jones, and do so in a continuous and uninterrupted manner for a period of years. Eventually, other possible approaches to Jones' land become unavailable.

If Smith were free to do whatever he wanted with his property, he would have Jones at his mercy. He could barricade the road along the edge of his property and completely seal off the property of Jones.

He might even attempt to charge an outrageous fee for continued use of his land in this manner.

The Illinois legislature has determined that such conduct should not be allowed.

The General Assembly has provided that any person who obstructs a "highway" may be ordered to remove the obstruction by the highway authority having jurisdiction over such "highway," and may be fined for placing the obstruction or refusing to remove it.

The term "highway" is defined by the legislature as: any public way for vehicular travel which has been used by the public as a highway for 15 years. A highway in a rural area may be called a "road" while a highway in a municipal area may be called a "street."

In the example above, if the 15-year requirement is met and if it can be said that the passageway was used by the public, then Jones is protected from arbitrary or unreasonable acts by Smith.

In defining public use, Illinois courts have said: "In determining whether a strip of ground has become a public highway by use, the test is not the number of persons actually using it, but the character of the use—that is, whether or not the public, generally, had free and unrestricted right to use the road."

The highway authority is also given the right to remove any obstruction, after giving 10 days' notice to Smith, and to recover the cost of removal from him. Thus, it is not necessary for the aggrieved party (Jones) to take the law into his own hands.

Realtors' observance

Jim Whitt, president of the Granite City Board of Realtors, today announced plans for Realtors Week, which opened yesterday and urged the public to "join with Realtors nationally in programs of civic improvement that will make America even greater."

Whitt urged local citizens to include in their efforts "diligence in the safeguarding of one of the most fundamental of human rights, the right of private real property ownership."

Locally, the Granite City Board of Realtors is planning to demonstrate how the area "continues to benefit from services of individual realtors and the board."

The board plans to honor the senior citizens of the community to demonstrate the respect the board members feel for the citizens who had a great influence on the development of the community.

"In this activity and others throughout the year, we can work together for a better community. And it must be one with a sound economic future based upon locally controlled, carefully planned land use," Whitt said.

"There are 500,000 realtors a realtor-association nationally who will be working with us, he added.

GC nurses attend convention

Mrs. Dona Boyer, Mrs. Verna Cochran, Mrs. Charlene Spurrier and Mrs. Frances Herrin, a Granite City delegation of Licensed Practical Nurses (LPN), are attending the convention of the LPN Association of Illinois which opened Sunday and will continue through Thursday at the Hilton Hotel, Peoria.

"New Fields in Health Care" is the convention theme and Mrs. E. Pauline Wright, president of the National Federation of LPN, is scheduled to address the delegates today, designated as Practical Nursing Student Day.

Other plans include the students from the School of Practical Nursing, Alton, which is one of the 35 schools of practical nursing in the state.

The day-long event will begin with the traditional student procession and roll call of schools with the students in uniform.

Addresses and workshops concerning health care delivery will be given by representatives of the Illinois Health Occupations Division; Health Occupations, Illinois Central College, Peoria; doctors from the Peoria School of Medicine, city clinics and the Peoria area, and a registered parliamentarian.

Mrs. Evelyn Toliver, Washburn, Ill., president of LPNAI, will preside at the business sessions. The policymaking body will give annual reports, amend by-laws, take action on resolutions, adopt programs on nursing and delivery of nursing care, elect officers and directors, 1976 nominating committee and alternates, and delegates to the NFPA convention to be held in New Orleans, La. in October.

200 at dinner praise Venice students as true champions

The theme of a sports banquet held Friday at which more than 200 basketball fans gathered to honor the Venice High School Class A state champion Red Devils was "Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow."

The guest speaker, State Rep.

Joe Lucco, recalled a similar banquet 12 years ago in which Coach Richard Essington attended as an eighth grade student. Lucco related that his speech then was, "So you want to be a champion."

Essington and his players are, "champions."

Lucco told the audience, "Many have helped your athletic program to be successful. I recall names like Carl Bolin, Earl Farris, Zahn Wells, Stanley Lynch and Bill Ohlendorf."

"The thing that makes today important is yesterday and all the people who helped make today possible, including parents of you players." He said that "three great people of our times—John Fitzgerald Kennedy, Robert F. Kennedy and Martin Luther King—always had tomorrow in mind."

"A dream such as those three men had is better than an overtime game."

"There's nothing wrong with dreaming, but you have to make something of them come true."

"I would like to think that after a season like you have experienced, that you won't waste your time dreaming of little things."

Jack E. Tolliver, president of the board of education, commented, "What a great team we have! There is no doubt in my mind that on the final day of the 1974-75 season, we could have been either Class A or Class AA champions."

"We now have nothing else to wish for," said Tolliver. "We are proud of what you have done, and what you will do, and of our future that is ahead of us. O'er time from tonight, we could be sitting here honoring another Venice championship team."

Essington, usually a man of few words, heaped praise on his players and Assistant Coach Clarence Hand.

Janssen, Meyers speed to victories

Louie Janssen of Bethalto topped a field of 31 other late model stock car drivers at Tri-City Speedway's 1978 season opener Saturday night, driving his Mustang race car to victory in the 25-lap feature event.

But it was Rosewood Heights' Bill Meyers who captured top honors in qualifying time trials, driving his Camaro around the one-half mile dirt oval here in 25.76 seconds and shattering the old mark of 25.83 set two years ago by C. C. Corbin of East Alton.

Meyers, who completed in super-modified race cars in early 1960s when the local speedway was first opened, and who later was a late model division track champion here—raced to victory ahead of runnerup Joe Northrup of Jacksonville in the first heat race. But he failed to get past Janssen in the main event.

Meyers had to settle for a third-place finish in the feature race as Janssen led from start to finish. Corbin finished second.

Meyers also competed in the handicap race for the six fastest qualifiers, finishing second behind Corbin. Jerry Sifford of Imperial, Mo., and Art Lynch of Cahokia were the other late model stock car heat race winners.

Defending late model track champion Len Gittenmeier of St. Charles, Mo., who will campaign this season on the U. S. Auto Club stock car circuit beginning next month, was victorious in a 12-lap semi-main event. Russ Wallace placed second and Sifford third.

Granite City sportsman division drivers placed well in that class's 15-lap feature race on the quarter-mile track. Kris Krohn finished second behind the event's winner, Deane Aerne of St. Louis. Defending sportsman, titlist Rod Bailey was fifth, Larry Yates eighth and Yates' brother, Jack, 10th. Sportsman class heat race winners were Mike Wallace and Rick Woody, both of Missouri.

Pre-race time trials are to be conducted only twice during the season, on the opening day and the first race date following July's mid-season championship race. Next auto racing at Tri-City Speedway is set for Saturday, April 26, with the first heat race at 7:30 p.m.

RECORD-SETTING THROW of 187 feet was recorded Saturday by Granite City High School North's Ed Opich at the Mattoon Carnival track and field relays. He is shown in an earlier photo. The Steeler's discus throw shattered the old mark of 186-8 set by Paul Andrews of Champaign Central in 1970. Opich established an all-time high school state record for a non-state finals meet. The 5-10, 200-pound senior considers track his only sport and Coach Chuck Mezerski relates, "He is as dedicated as most athlete I have ever coached."

GCHS North's baseball nine, now 7-5 for the season, defeated Dupo 8-2 here Friday and split a doubleheader here Saturday with Belleville. Althoff, North lost 4-3 Saturday and then won by the same score.

Winning pitchers were Bill Dickerson on Friday and Darrell Page, John Scott took the loss. Hits by Harvey Breckner, Jeff Reiter, Mark Davis and Richard Schmidt, Ed Schmidt and Dave Harrison and timely walks helped North score well for Dickerson's five-hitter included ten strikeouts.

Althoff got all its first-game runs in the fourth. The Steelers rallied in the seventh but could not catch up. Hits by Reiter, Davis, Ed Schmidt and Carr proved productive.

Big county track meet here Tuesday

Madison and the two Granite City high schools are among 13 Madison County high school varsity track and field teams which will compete at 4 p.m. tomorrow in the annual county meet, to be held at GCHS South.

Others vying here will be Wood River, Roxana, Bethalto, Triad, Highland, St. Paul of Highland, Alton, Edwardsville, Collinsville and Marquette of Alton.

The five larger schools, North and South, Alton, Edwardsville and Collinsville, will be pitted in red division competition while the others will compete in the green division.

GCHS South, which holds three records in the meet, will be attempting to repeat its 1973 team victory. GCHS North will be competing in the meet for only the second time.

Last year in red division competition, Alton earned 98½ points, Edwardsville 54, South 49, North 39 and Collinsville 27½.

Madison's Trojans set seven records in past meets, including last year's 440-relay squad time of 44.9 seconds by Kevin Boyd, James Turner, Joe Young and Lamont Garrett. MHS will seek to better its fourth-place finish last year in the green division.

Finishing order of that division was Wood River with 55 points, Bethalto 52½, Triad 49 5-8, Madison 48, Highland 32½, Roxana 22½, St. Paul of Highland 12½ and Marquette three.

Madison County trackmen already have bettered some of the meet's past times and distances this season, an indication that additional records may fall this year.

Communications group to complete organization

The newly-formed Mississippi Valley Telecommunications Association, made up of more than 30 metropolitan area persons who are responsible for the transfer of information by electromagnetic means, will hold its next monthly meeting at noon Wednesday.

Acting chairman Wayne Robinson, supervisor of communications for Granite City Steel, said the April meeting in the Cheshire Inn will deal with organizational matters. The election of officers will take place at the group's first annual meeting in May.

The MVTA was formed in March by Robinson and the managers of five other area companies, Ralston-Purina, Monsanto, Pet, Inc., General Dynamics, and Kellwood. Robinson said 32 representatives of metropolitan area companies attended the first organizational meeting in March.

The association's membership is limited to managers or assistant managers responsible for the direction, or operation of telecommunication systems, Robinson said.

"The field of telecommunications encompasses all transfer of information, both internal and external to an organization, by electromagnetic means, including telephone data, telegraph, facsimile, and picture transmission facilities and services," he said.

The association plans to hold monthly meetings from September through May, and invite speakers from universities and industries to increase the exchange of information in the field of telecommunications.

Streamline license and title forms

Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett said Friday that his new "Regillite" program, developed to improve service to the public, is now in operation.

The drastic change, first outlined by Howlett in October, enables a car or truck buyer to apply for a title certificate and license plate on one of two forms. This eliminates 22 forms previously used in applying for a title and registration for different classes of vehicles.

One form is designed for buyers of vehicles licensed on a calendar year basis (mostly cars and motorcycles) and the second is for vehicles licensed on a state fiscal year basis, July 1 to June 30, (mostly trucks and trailers).

The new Regillite operation combines functions formerly handled separately by the Registration and Title divisions of the Department of Motor Vehicle in the secretary's office.

Under the change, all applications for vehicle titles and plates are processed at the same time by teams of employees, specially trained for prompt handling.

Formerly, applications and checks were moved from section to section, which individually checked various steps before being completed.

"The new system has been streamlined to speed up service on title and licensing applications from our office and to save taxpayers' money," Howlett said.

"Elimination of 22 forms will make a dramatic saving in steadily increased printing costs, and simplify paperwork in preparing original applications throughout the state."

In addition to the two forms now in use, only a small group of seldom-used forms for specialized occasions has been retained.

Secretary of state representatives have been holding workshops throughout the state, explaining Regillite procedures to car dealers.

Pre-printed applications for renewing vehicle license plates will be sent as usual. Fiscal year pre-prints have been mailed, and pre-prints for calendar year plates are scheduled for mailing in late summer.

Evaluation study under way at North

A team of 28 members of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools were to visit Granite City High School North today in the first phase of a three-day evaluation study. The committee will continue its visit through tomorrow and Wednesday.

Principal Gilbert Walmsley explained that North Central Association membership requires every school to undergo a complete evaluation once every seven years.

The evaluation includes a comprehensive self-study by the school, and then a review by a team of outside educators, he said. GCHS North is in its second year of operation.

After the team's visit, the staff will consider recommendations made by the team and the recommendations that resulted from the school's self study.

South High to present 'South Pacific' in May

Rehearsals are now under way at Granite City High School South for the vocal music department's presentation of the Rodgers and Hammerstein classic "South Pacific."

The musical will be presented Thursday and Friday, May 15 and 16, at 8 p.m. in the South High auditorium.

The production is a combined effort of several faculty members at South High, according to Mrs. Mary Ann Bright, South vocal music instructor.

Mrs. Bright is conducting the musical numbers and Richard King and Ron Pennell are assisting in directing the overall presentation.

Costumes and scenery are under the supervision of Mrs. Beverly Scroggins. Accompaniment is being provided by Mrs. Phyllis Weiss and Mrs. Marge Ellsworth.

Adapted from James A. Michener's award-winning novel, "Tales of the South Pacific," the musical takes place during World War II on the islands of the South Pacific.

Mrs. Bright noted the musical's scenario ranges from the humor to the tragedy of war, and the plot introduces many unforgettable leading characters.

The music is equally as varied from the hauntingly beautiful "Ballad" number to the provocative, funny and boisterous "There Is Nothin' Like a Dame," the music director commented.

Ticket distribution and other information concerning the two-night performance will be announced shortly, Mrs. Bright said.

The concert is sponsored by the University Center Board and special allocated activities in the Student Activities Office.

Miss Bowden was formerly a member of the Merce Cunningham Dance Co. and is now teaching for the Cunningham School in New York.

The performance is free and the public is invited to attend.

New Pontoon Beach Board meets Tuesday

The first meeting of the newly reorganized Pontoon Beach Village Board has been changed to 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the village hall.

The former board met Friday night and canvassed the votes from the village's April 15 election. No changes were found.

The outgoing village clerk, Mrs. Corrine Krober, gave the oath of office to re-elected Village Board President Floyd David Moss, re-elected Trustee Loren Madison, new trustees Keith Biggs and Duane Skinner and to the new clerk, Mrs. Mary Warren.

The former board then adjourned for the last time after calling the new board's first meeting for tomorrow night. The former board held meetings on the second and fourth Thursday nights of each month, but the new board will have the option to change the meeting nights, if it chooses.

Levee split bills killed by committee

The Counties and Townships Committee of the Illinois House may have killed a series of bills by State Rep. Horace Calvo (D-Granite City) to allow a split of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District on Madison and St. Clair County lines.

The committee last week voted in favor of a "do not pass" recommendation, which means the bills will not go to the House floor for consideration. It would require 89 votes on the House floor to bring them out of committee for House discussion.

Eight committee members favor the "no pass" recommendation, four voted against the recommendation and four voted "present."

Calvo told the committee that "All these bills do is provide for a method of disconnection by those in the present district. There is no such method now."

Committee vice-chairman, Monroe Flinn (D-Cahokia) said adoption of the Calvo bills would "undo" everything he accomplished by his bill which was passed by the legislature last year. That bill authorized creation of a new levee district to replace the present one, administered by an appointed board of five trustees.

Flinn said the Calvo bills would, in effect, bankrupt "the portion of the district left in my (St. Clair) county."

Calvo argued that his bills only would give the people a chance to decide what they want.

Calvo obtained passage of a bill authorizing such a split in 1972, but the Illinois Supreme Court held it unconstitutional. State Rep. Joseph Lucio (D-Edwardsville) a committee member, voted against the committee action concurring that the people in the district should have the right to vote on the issue.

Two lose votes in recount

A loss of 11 votes in the April 1 election tally for Granite City Alderman Emerald Dawes for the Seventh Ward and a loss of eight votes for his nearest opponent, Donald Partney Jr., resulted Thursday from a "discovery" recount of the ballots cast in the Seventh Ward for the two candidates.

The recount was requested by Partney in a "petition for discovery" filed with City Clerk Robert Stevens after Partney said he had discovered "several discrepancies" which he believed should be checked.

The ballots cast for Dawes and Partney were recounted Thursday by Stevens in the presence of the two candidates, resulting in a new total vote of 667 for Dawes and 632 for Partney in the five precincts of the ward.

Two other candidates in the April 1 city election in Ward Seven, Frank Vesce and Daniel Sparks, were not involved in the proceedings.

Stevens said the new tabulation indicated an error in the counting by precinct judges on the night of the election.

The new vote tabulation showed no change in the previously announced totals in precincts 27 and 30, but resulted in minor changes in the other three precincts of the Seventh Ward.

In Precinct 28, where Dawes had been credited with 202 votes and Partney 208, Dawes lost six votes for a new total of 196, and Partney lost one vote for a new total of 207.

Dawes lost five votes in Precinct 29 for a new total of 168, and Partney lost five votes for a new total of 83.

Dawes' earlier tally of 129 votes in Precinct 31 was unchanged by the recount, but Partney lost two votes there for a new official vote total of 160.

Also attending the recount were Aldermen William Dallas, Roy Poulos and Ronald Newman, representing the City Council which makes up the canvassing board. City Attorney George Pileoff and Attorney Leon Scroggins representing Partney.

Born in Granite City, Mr. Burnett was employed as a furnaceman. He had worked at Laclede Steel for 28 years.

He was a member of the Baptist faith and Granite City Moose Lodge 272.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Alma Burnett; two sons, Corde and Steven Burnett, and a daughter, Miss Cordean Burnett, all of Granite City; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse (Jennie) Burnett of St. James, Mo.; two brothers, Kenneth Burnett of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Carl Burnett of Granite City; and a sister, Mrs. Carolyn LeVarge of St. James, Mo.

Funeral services were held here today. Details are given in the obituary column.

Roscoe Churovich, 83, dies

Roscoe N. Churovich, 83, of 2828 Edwards St., was pronounced dead upon arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 1:28 a.m. Saturday.

Mr. Churovich was taken to the hospital by ambulance from the home of a son, Dan Churovich, 2828 Edwards St., where he had been staying for the evening with his grandchildren.

He was found by the younger Churovich lying on the bathroom floor when Dan Churovich returned home.

It is believed he may have suffered a heart attack. An inquiry is pending.

Mr. Churovich was born in Yugoslavia and had lived in Granite City for 48 years. Prior to retiring he was employed at Granite City Steel. He was a former coal miner and a member of the Serbian Orthodox Church of St. Louis.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Johanna Churovich; four sons, Dan and George Churovich, both of Granite City, Melvin Churovich of St. Louis County and Alexander Churovich of Corpus Christi, Tex.; and nine grandchildren.

Public meeting on 1980 census

An open meeting on the 1980 Census of Population and Housing will be held Thursday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Stouffer's Riverfront Inn.

Donald R. Leno, regional director, U. S. Department of Commerce, said it is one of a series of meetings being arranged in cities across the country at the suggestion of the Bureau of the Census.

The census team coming in from Washington will be led by Robert Hagan, deputy director, Bureau of the Census.

Carolee Bush, staff assistant, Demographic Census Staff, will present an overview of the 1980 census plans. Maurice Moore, Population Division, and Arthur F. Young, chief, Housing Division of the Bureau of the Census, will present items and issues for their fields. Purpose of the meeting is to get local recommendations for improving the 1980 census from a wide range of past and potential census data users.

Although there are limits on the census in terms of how much and what information can be collected, Bureau officials want to consider the recommendations of as many persons and groups as possible before making final plans for the decennial count.

General Assembly's trend toward concern for business costs may jeopardize tax revenue and job opportunities

Guest comment by Southwestern Illinois Industrial Association on current Illinois General Assembly deliberations — Today, business and industry is surrounded by a constantly increasing mountain of paperwork and regulations, courtesy of the federal and state government.

There is no question that some regulations have been absolutely necessary and are vital to the continuation and well-being of business and industry. But many of the governmental regulations have no concept with reality. They are often duplicative and extremely expensive and time-consuming.

Despite the fact that our economy is hard-pressed to continue at a consistent high level, legislators and congressmen seem determined to introduce and pass more regulations governing business and industry.

At both the state and federal levels, there is one issue that is never, never allowed to be discussed: that is economics — what it will cost.

Everyone knows that no one specific piece of regulatory legislation will drive business or industry from a state or the United States. But the cumulative effect can spell disaster.

Technology and economics have become the foundation of our society as it exists today, and yet people's comprehension of these two vital principles are misunderstood, maligned and misrepresented.

We can no longer ignore — or allow legislators and congressmen to ignore — the economic impact of legislation on business and industry.

A recent example in Illinois is labor's unemployment compensation bill, HB 488, which would more than double benefits in this state. How this would affect our economy is no one's business.

Both the Illinois Senate and House of Representatives have adopted joint deadlines for legislative activity. April 12 was the final day for introduction of bills in the house of origin. The last day for standing committees to complete all action on bills originating in their house will be May 2.

The final day for standing committees to finish action on bills from the other house — June 13. And June 26 is the last day for third reading and passage in each house of bills originating in the other house.

Manufacturing jobs are steadily decreasing, and Illinois has been considerably worse than the national average. Why is it that legislators, both state and federal, do not determine the economic impact of legislation on business?

Michigan, a sister industrial state, has also been steadily losing manufacturing jobs. What has it done?

As of Jan. 1, 1974, Michigan businesses got an increase in their inventory tax credit. Last year, the credit was 25 per cent. Now it's 32 per cent, and by 1981 it will be 75 per cent. This tax saving means increased profit.

Effective Jan. 1, 1975, the corporate franchise fee for Michigan businesses is reduced. The franchise fee was 5 mills and has been reduced to 4.75 mills — a 5 per cent saving. By 1985, it will be 2.25 mills — a total saving of 55 per cent. And as of July 9, 1974, Michigan businesses received a 12-year property tax exemption.

Michigan is determined that it is not going to lose its industrial jobs. Employees are also contributing. They produce at 14.8 per cent above the national average. Labor there is aware of the facts of life — like the fact that for labor to make good money, the companies have got to make good money.

Newspapers are full of stories about the almost obscene profits of corporations. But 1972 statistics show the following distribution of income originating in corporate business — employees 83.7 per cent of the total, 8.1 per cent tax liability, 0.2 per cent net interest, 1.2 inventory valuation adjustment, 4.5 per cent dividends and 2.3 per cent retained profits.

Fringes provided by employers are fast becoming a major expense for management. Most of these have come into being in the last 15 to 20 years.

An employee earning $5.20 an hour, at a typical company with over 1,000 employees and a fairly steady work force, would have gross annual pay of $2,080 hours of $10.816. But with fringe benefits, the actual cost is $17,412. Overall fringe costs for large corporations have almost doubled the increase in wage over the past several years.

We talk about industrial jobs leaving this state. Let's also look at the entire United States, which is rapidly becoming second best.

Industries pay taxes — taxes keep the government running — and with taxes the government has money to help people. But industries are being faced with increasing obstacles.

No one likes to be second best, but the U. S. seems to be getting there fast:

1. The U. S. used to make 76 per cent of the world's automobiles, but now makes only 33 per cent.

2. We produced 47 per cent of the world's steel, but now 19 per cent.

3. Until the mid-1940s, the U. S. built 58 per cent of the world's merchant ships — now 2 per cent.

4. We ranked first as the world's maker of machine tools — now third.

5. The American-built sewing machine was the trademark of the American home. Today, only one company in the U. S. makes sewing machines. All others are imported.

Legislators complain that business and industry people do not make their problems known or, if they do, it's a one-shot operation. Keeping this in mind, the SIA is undertaking an economic education campaign.

While the legislature is in Springfield, legislators will daily receive articles dealing with economic facts. It is a small beginning, but we hope that over a period of time that legislators will begin to realize the vast and complex problems that are unique to business and industry economics.

Additional hearings on alignments within the corridors will be required after the planning of each segment. And additional hearings may be scheduled to review alternative alignments in some problem areas such as Cahokia Mounds.

The improvements to Illinois 159 from the airport to Belleville will be completed in 1976. Planning for this section will probably begin in about three years.

The only Missouri highway which will be required for the first stage at Columbia-Waterloo is the section of I-270 at the west end of the JB Bridge.

The Missouri Highway Department has completed the planning work on this section. The right-of-way has been acquired. This project will be let for construction this year if

Highways funded. The FORUM offer good access to site of airport

By WILLIAM B. REEVES
Director of Planning
St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority
Initial construction of the proposed Columbia-Waterloo airport will be served by the following road system, most of which will be built with or without the airport.

The Illinois Department of Transportation is currently working on this first stage access program.

The principal access road will be the all new FAP 410, a limited-access, six-lane interstate standard freeway which generally follows the present Illinois Route 3. It will handle approximately 90 per cent of the traffic coming to and from the airport entering the airport on the west side.

Approximately ten per cent of the traffic will enter the airport from the east side. A new east airport entrance road will connect to Illinois 156, which will be widened to four lanes from the airport to Belleville. FAP 410 will serve the Downtown St. Louis area by a connection to the Capitol Street Bridge. It will also serve the south county and west county area by connections to the all new Jefferson Barracks Bridge.

Again, the new Jefferson Barracks Bridge will be built with or without the airport. The described will be required with or without the airport, and this system will be built with or without the airport.

The airport will, of course, require the road system to be of a higher vehicle capacity than would be required for non-airport traffic only.

Four additional lanes will be required on the south section of FAP 410 and two additional lanes will be required on the north section of FAP 410 and the west section of I-255.

The additional cost of this added capacity including a new bridge, is estimated by Illinois DOT to be $95.7 million in 1971 dollars—$80.4 million Illinois and $15.3 million Missouri.

In the past, various Missouri officials have charged that the cost of roads to Columbia-Waterloo would be $60 million.

The Northport report which was prepared for the State of Missouri, estimated road costs for the Columbia-Waterloo site at $105,450,000, which compares to the 1971 figure of $95.7 million by Illinois DOT.

Their method of arriving at $60 million is interesting.

They added the total cost of these highways were $127 million. $280 million, the entire cost of 141 extension (four lanes) $80 million, and the entire cost of the outer belt (Route 340-four lanes) $300 million.

The interesting point is that all these highways were in the 1960 urban highway system (network 9005) which was prepared before the Columbia-Waterloo site was even considered.

Another interesting point is that none of these highways are as near the airport as the Columbia-Waterloo site than they are to Lambert Field or any other sites which have been considered.

The $60 million figure is clearly an unfair, distorted estimate.

We have described today (April 21) at Airport Authority meeting) only the first-stage ground access system. We have not described other facilities which could be provided in future stages.

We also have not discussed bridges, other than the Jefferson Barracks Bridge.

It is hoped that the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council within the next few months will plan the next stage of the highway system, including the Mississippi River crossings.

It is possible that one or more major bridges may be introduced into the plan and be constructed if required within the time frame of the airport.

The cost of one new bridge was included in the first-stage estimates of $95.7 million.

Possible new bridge crossings which will be considered are a crossing at Arsenal Street at Cahokia, which will provide shorter access for south St. Louis travelers, and crossing at or near Crystal City.

To sum up — the highway corridors for the first phase have been approved, design is under way in some cases complete, and funding of the highway system is assured.

The first stage highway system is well ahead of the 1965 estimated opening date of the new airport.

The State of Illinois and the Airport Authority have stated many times that the state will do everything that is required to provide a first-class, highways facility. If not, it will be let next year.

I-270 will be constructed to six lanes at the bridge and will be widened to six lanes by adding two median lanes westward on I-270 as the traffic demands increase.

Funds are available for construction of the first-stage airport access system. In 1971, the Illinois legislature approved the $900 million transportation bond program which authorizes the state to issue bonds as required to provide the local share of funds for highways, including those needed here.

The state enjoys a high AAA rating with the bond houses and thus has no difficulty in selling these bonds — and at low interest rates.

FAP 410, FAP 413 and Illinois 159 will be funded with 70 per cent of the cost from the federal government under the federal and primary program.

I-255 including the Jefferson Barracks Bridge will be funded with 90 per cent federal highway trust funds from the interstate highway program and 10 per cent from the state bond issue.

It is estimated that construction of FAP 410 will begin about 1975, I-255 about 1977, FAP 413 about 1979 and Illinois 159 about 1980.

The highway system described will be required with or without the airport, and this system will be built with or without the airport.

The airport will, of course, require the road system to be of a higher vehicle capacity than would be required for non-airport traffic only.

Four additional lanes will be required on the south section of FAP 410 and two additional lanes will be required on the north section of FAP 410 and the west section of I-255.

Pontoon Beach drug awareness talks

To the Editor:
As advisor of Pontoon Beach Police Explorer Post 256, I am proud of the boys' efforts to present an adult drug awareness program as a service to the community.

The adult drug awareness program will be presented tonight to help parents become more aware of the drug problem and educate the family in problems of drug abuse.

If the reader is a parent of a teenage child or will have a teenage child in the future, the program is intended for you.

Thinking that drug abuse will never happen in your family or that drug abuse does not exist in this community could end up in a shocking experience.

Readers, how would you act if you found evidence that your teenage child was experimenting with drugs?

Would you know what small signs to look for? Would you know who to seek for help?

The adult drug awareness program at the Long Lake Fire Hall at 7:30 tonight will include professional speakers and deal with drug problems on a day-to-day basis.

Sgt. Gary Burns, head of the investigative division of the Madison County Sheriff's Department; Gerald W. Brown, assistant principal of Granite City High School North; and Father Walter Lecko, pastor of Nativity of Virgin Mary Eastern orthodox Church in Madison.

The three speakers will then be joined by Dr. George T. Wilkins, M.D., Chief of Police, Rosewell Bennett Jr. and myself to answer questions from the audience.

Explorer Post 256 is affiliated with the Boy Scouts of America, for boys ranging in age from 14 to 16 years. Sponsored by the Pontoon Beach Police Department, with an educational interest in law enforcement.

Those who cannot afford the $1 contribution will be allowed in free.

The explorers hope to provide such projects in the future for the community's support.

Against closing of party primaries

To the Editor:
It appears a senator from Northern Illinois is trying to take another freedom from the voters.

Sen. John Ninnes, R-Stokie, has a bill before the Illinois Senate requiring a voter to state his politics three months or earlier before he votes in the primary election.

It is my opinion that it is nobody's business but my own whether I want to vote in the primary.

Even in the primary itself, there should be no designation as to the party ticket called for by a particular person.

Naturally, there should be a record made of a person voting — and a tabulation made of the exact number of party tickets cast by each voter.

There should, however, be no designation as to the particular party ticket requested when voting in the primary.

Proponents of this bill base their reasoning on the fact that it would allow voters of other parties to cross-over.

In my opinion, open primaries give the voter an opportunity to choose the candidate he feels will be the most capable, especially where there is no competition on the other party's parties' list of candidates.

Open primaries would serve to always give us a better choice of candidates on all tickets on the ballot.

In turn, it should also serve to allow us the person best available in the final tally.

As voters in the state of Illinois, we should contact our state legislators advising them of our feelings. If there are others who feel as I — and think maybe this is not enough and that a petition would serve the purpose more advantageously — then we should move in this direction immediately.

Fear state fiscal irresponsibility

To the Editor:
We favor jobs for Illinoisans. We are against handouts and tax increases.

Those who agree should come to the Capitol in Springfield on Wednesday, April 30, "May Day Minus One."

Employers and working men and women of Illinois share in the desire for a climate which encourages job opportunities and business expansion.

The proposed new state philosophy of spending tax dollars and plunging the state into debt can prevail if the working people in the private sector — management and employees, who will have to pay those taxes — do nothing.

Vast expansion of public spending and expansion of the cost of doing business in Illinois will result in a further decrease in job opportunities.

The public can do something about it.

Citizens' presence in Springfield on April 30 can be a very great encouragement to those members of the General Assembly who believe in fiscal responsibility and are dedicated to keeping Illinois economically viable.

We urge all to come to Springfield and express their feelings.

Generosity at Army Support Center

To the Editor:
On behalf of the National Health Agencies, I would like to publicly thank Colonel Harry L. Bush of the U. S. Army St. Louis Area Support Center in Granite City for his generosity in making the Granite City area Combined Federal Services Campaign a success. Over $4,400 was raised. This campaign, authorized by the U. S. government, is conducted in the fall of each year on federal installations throughout the nation for the benefit of the National Health Agencies, the local United Way and the International Service Agencies.

Helping to raise the much-needed funds to carry on medical research, education and patient services.

Under Col. Bush's leadership, the National Health Agencies will benefit from gross receipts over $1,200. Again, the National Health Agencies thank all those who participated.

Variable rate home mortgages urged

To the Editor:
No matter what kind of mortgage you get for yourself, as a home buyer you may be better off if the variable-rate home loan idea catches on in this country.

The most important thing about VRMs (variable-rate mortgages) for home buyers is that they would tend to make home ownership available to more people.

Variable-rate mortgages are home loans with interest rates that fluctuate up and down with changes in money rates generally.

If money rates rise, the interest on your mortgage would go up, too; and if they fall, your home loan rate would come down.

The Federal Home Loan Bank Board has proposed that federal savings associations be allowed to offer VRMs, which are common in Britain and some other countries.

Public acceptance of VRMs here would help moderate the "boom or bust" money cycles that have crippled the home-building industry.

This would make it easier for anyone to get a home loan of any kind. And it would bolster the market for existing homes and condominiums, making it easier to sell your home for a fair price later.

The current housing slump, which saw 1974 housing starts drop to the lowest rate since 1943, was caused by inflation. Interest rates got so high that savers took money out of home-building institutions to invest in higher-paying government obligations.

If lenders had enough VRMs in their portfolios, they could have retained some of this money by boosting VRM mortgage rates so as to pay higher rates to savers.

VRMs would also attract other lenders into the home loan field and would give VRM borrowers an incentive to pay ahead on their loans during an inflation, further swelling the mortgage money supply.

Home buyers should also recognize that VRMs are a two-way street, and that loan rates will drop when interest rates go down.

With a regular fixed-rate mortgage, you would be locked in at the higher rate unless you were willing to go through the trouble and expense of refinancing your loan.

And to induce borrowers to accept VRMs, lenders may have to offer more than one loan term or a lower initial rate.

Under the Federal Home Loan Bank Board's proposal, VRM interest rates could change no more than 2½ per cent above the original contract rate. There is no limit on decreases.

Changes would have to be at least six months apart and no change could be more than one-half per cent at a time.

The VRM rate would be linked to a money rate index beyond the lender's control.

Rates would be adjusted by changing the monthly payments, the length of the loan term, or both.

With these and other borrower safeguards, VRMs deserve a chance to prove themselves in the marketplace.

And if enough home buyers accept them, a stronger housing market will result.

Overeaters Anonymous is self-supporting through its own contributions, she said.

There are scales and no weight records kept.

"If you are an overeater, we urge you to attend," she concluded.
